Henry Hits the Road

Henry, the new All of Us Research Program mobile unit, is taking research on the road to help build awareness and excitement. This traveling mobile unit also actively engages community members to join this landmark research project that will accelerate research and improve health.

The mobile unit is a 39-foot unit with two private patient rooms, a waiting area and bathroom. The inside also has medical refrigerators to store research samples. It's a new concept to take research on the road to make it easy to involve the community.
